RETREAT CENTER

An Environment to Stimulate Original Thought

Over 25 years of leading team buildings and strategic retreats we have found that environment is very important to the success of executive retreats. We have designed our center to create a relaxing and effective space for inventing your future. We are on The Peninsula in Belmont Shore, Long Beach. On breaks you can walk along the Pacific Ocean and Alamitos Bay to clear your mind and stimulate innovative thinking. The sunsets are awesome.

"Paul took our Executive Team through the best team building I have ever experienced. Not only has the velocity of execution increased, but we are more focused on key strategic actions." -Bill McGinnis, CEO, NTS

"Paul David Walker is the best Executive Coach I have ever worked with." -Lloyd Wallis, President, Rubbercraft

"Paul possesses a unique combination of business, team building and executive development skills."

-Dwight Decker, Chairman and CEO, Conexant Systems Inc.

"We took an enormous leap forward; making our words about a special company become a reality ... my senior team has also grown tremendously along with our earnings." -Ken Simons, CEO, Teradata

Discover who you really are when your stress is released.

Spend a day or an afternoon on The Peninsula in Belmont Shore in our gardens. Walk along the Pacific Ocean and Alamitos Bay at sunset while reflecting on your life.

Do not wait, refresh yourself now and accelerate your life with ease and grace.

I have been, and am, mentored by some of the most profound business leaders & philosophers of our time. I will involve you in an explorative dialogue that will expand your understanding of how to extend present reality into a successful future. Your understanding of leadership, yourself and your business will take a quantum leap. I use story telling, humor and insight to stimulate learning from the day-to-day experience. I will ask you to tell and analyze your greatest success stories to create a "line of sight" to your natural genius, and a roadmap to the future of your company.
